Yesterday morning witnessed a regular game of "freeze out," played by the trains of the Wostern and A tlantic ano Georgia railroads, which, while it might have been fun for them, was annoying and vexatious to the traveling public. From 4 o'clock a.m. until 9:45 a.m. the game continued, and finally resulted in a drawn battle—as both trains backed out.

The accommodation train on the Georgia railit road reached a point just below Butler street entert. On time, and was held there over them the great annoyance of sover they mile, and was held there over they mile, and was small of whom to business men and mechanics, many of whom to business men and mechanics, analy of whom to business men and mechanics, as similarly detained.

The blockade being partially raised, the two trains slipped into the passenger depot at 1 minutes of 9 o'clock. The blockade, however, immediately resumed its obstructive power over the track.

The fast mail train of the Piedmont Air-Line, due here at 9:25 a.m. and was detained from reaching the passenger depot until 9:45 a.m.

Just a few moments before, the Western and Atlantic railroad train, which had been "holding the fort" for five hours, reversed the engine, and and the Georgia train got out of the way.

The track that was between the passenger depot and the Building occupied by Garrett & Bro. and others on Alabama street, from Whitehall street crossing to Butler street culvert seemed to be effectually blockaded.

The Georgia railroad, we are informed, have a reight train arriving at 20 clock a.m. and an ear-press arriving at a small railroad train might the western and Atlantic railroad train might have gone forward and got out of the way, but halted at the place named, waling, it is alieged, for delayed sections to come up. Happily now, as in 1856, it makes no practical difference whether the vote of Georgia is counted or not. But it might easily have been the turning point in the contest. The election might have hung upon this single question, and it is easy to see what infmite trouble might have arisen from the conflict of opposing interests and opinions. rior to the state legislatures.

We can conceive of no reasonable excure for the Georgia electiors failing to meet on the day fixed by the act of congress. If Governor Colquitt deemed it his duty to obey the state law, he should have obeyed both laws, and called the electors obeyed both laws, and called the electors obeyed both laws, and cast their votes twice in proper form, no doubt could have arisen as to the lexality of one or the other of the returns, and congress would have been called upon to settle a question of law that could not affect the vote either way. The states have peculiar tights in the appointment of electors, but how electors shall act after their appointment, and how their returns shall be made, are questions clearly within the direction of congress, and such direction should be obeyed even in disregard of conflicting local statutes.

They are ant to skip down south, those clauses in the constitution of the United States which repose authority in the national government, such as this: "The congress may determine the time of choosing the electors and the 'day on which they shall give their votes, which day shall be the same throughout the United States." It will take time to accomplian these wouth. It will take time to accomplian these wouth. It will take time to accomplian these results, but the fruit of such effort is as certain as the relation of cause and effect.

The Cotton Exposition.

A Happy Thought. "Fast mails and slow politics" was the happy thought in the form of a toast proposed at a southern joilification over the rapid transit between New York and New Orleans. There is a world of wisdom in it, and if the southern people read the lesson aright they will make even more material progress in this decade than they did in the last. Sara's Standing as an Artist.

Taking ale-son from a wagon the inventor puts the small wheel in front. This saves the 'cycler from many a header, which of course is to be regretted. Another new feature in this rig is a couple of levers instead of pedals. These can be adjusted so that a short-legged man can wear a big wheeled bicycle. The bicyclist need not have his feet follow the weary round of the treadles, but can rest on these levers while the engine is running down hill. The machine can also be propelled by a single lever, which gives one-legged men a chance. rariably acknowledged to be the pu-

The senate met at three o'clock

Mr. McDaniel, as chairman of the judiciary committee, reported that a number of bills were still in the hands of that committee which for lack of time has been unable to consider them.

On motion of Mr. Fouche a message was sent to the house requesting the return of the appropriation bill to the senate.

Mr. Payne—R. solved, that the thanks of the senate are due and are hereby tendered the Hon. James S. Boynton, president protem. and Hon. William A. Harris, secretary of the senate and his assistants for the prompt, efficient and courteous manner in which they have each discharged their respective duties during that portion of the senate now about to close. Agreed to.

By Mr. McWhorter—Resolved, that Senators Westbrook, Wilson, Smith, of the fifth, and Parks, Secretary Harris and his assistants remain after adjournment, not later than Tuesday night, for the purpose of bringing up the unfinished business of the senate. Agreed to.

By Mr. Curtis—Resolved, that all committees of the senate be required to deposit all bills in their possession with the secretary of the senate for safe keeping until the meeting of the general assembly in July next. Agreed to.

The president appointed Messrs. Bond and Denmark the committee on part of senate under the joint resolution to inquire and report what additional buildings are necessary for lunatic asylum.

The consideration of the house resolution to appoint a joint committee to look into the constitutionality of repealing the convict lease system, was postponed till the second Wednesday in July, 1881, by a vote of 22 to 18.

On motion of Mr. Guerry, the senate went into executive session.
Mr. Price, from the committee to notify the governor that the general assembly would take a recess after to-day until the first Wednesday in July, 1881, and to ask him if he had any communication to make to the members at this session, reported that the governor had nothing further to submit. In executive session the senate confirmed

In executive ression the senate confirmed the appointment of Jonathan L. Saggs, judge of the county court of Clay county, R. R. Blacker, solicitor of the county court of Clay, and William L. Phillips, solicitor of the county court of Jefferson.

The following resolutions were adopted.

Resolved, That the thanks of the senate are he shy tendered to the pages, Robert Hall, Hugh McConnell and Robert Anglin, and to Jackson McHeury and David Cole, for the prompt and satis actory manner in which they have met the duties of their stations.

Resolved, That the thanks of the senate are gratefully due, and hereby tendered to President North and Vice President V. P. Price, for the Boynton and Vice President V. P. Price, for the breasant and effective speakers of the house.

Mr. DuBignon's time was extended ten minutes, for he had captured the house, and his rounded periods tell on well pleased ears. He was applauded as he sat down.

Mr. Gurard urged the house not to con cur in the senate amendment and said it was a practical question.

Mr. Winslow spoke in favor of the in crease proposed by the senate.

Mr. Winslow spoke in favor of the increase proposed by the senate.

The finance committee reported in favor f amending the senate amendment putting the tax on retail liquor dealers at $25 by making it $50.

Mr. Hansell spoke in favor of the amend the way proposed, as it had already acted on the matter.

The speaker ruled the point well taken.

Mr. Milner spoke in favor of the senate amendment. He did not believe in trying to legislate morals into the people. Mr. Render called the previous question yeas and nays, which were ordered. The yeas were 87; nays 39. The senate amendment was therefore con-onds which are not especially exempted, dr. Wright made a ringing speech in favor of it and Mn. Garrard forcibly opposed it. Mr. Polhill urged the house not to commit the injustice of putting Georgia in place where she would tak her own indebedness.

Mr. Polhill as usual was effective.

Mr. Barrow said the amendment was opposed to the constitution of 1876, which declared that taxation on the same classification of subjects should be uniform Mr. Barrow made a very clear argument, He also argued that the proposition to tax the state's bonds was opposed to the constitution of the United States. Mr. Wright that all bondholders were rich was erroneous, as statistics show that the average bondholder does not hold over $1,000. The taxation of the state's securities would drive them away from home and damage the credit of the common wealth.

Mr. Martin of Talbot, opposed the senate amendment as one flaught with evil, and made some very sensible remarks.

The senate amendment was not concurred n—yeas 17, nays 61. The house adjourned to 3 o'clock.

Through the gentlemaniy courtesy of Mr. J. M.
Goldsmith, I bave been able to see the operation of the new cotton cleaner invented by Mr. J. W.
Clarke, I watched is operation with much pleasure, for it ac omplishes a very desirable work wery accurately. In extraction of the leaf from the cotton is by this macaine done before the gin has broken if thio small pleese and mixed it in with the fiber. It has done this with very littile loss of akaple compared to the loss sustained to accomplish the same purpose in the process of manufacture. The machine is destined to be of

Atlants, December 4, 1886

New York—The market opened firm for the future months at the highest quotations of the day. During the morning, the market ruled quiet and steady, but by noon the general feeling strongly indicated a downward tendency. Later in the day a weaker tone prevailed which was accompanied by a more rapid decline that continued throughout the afternoon. At the close the future mo the sust med a sharp cut in prices which placed the market in the vicinity of esterday's close. Notwithstanding the months closed weak, the spot market seems to be pretty well maintained. At the opening cotten was quiet and firm, and during the day no quotable change had taken place, and quotations appear to be firmly established: middling 12c. Net receipts to-day 30.311 bales; exports 35.885 bales; stock 895.657 bales.

The Atlanta Hospital.

This institution is a fixed fact in our city. Established last April, under many difficulties, it has continued month by month to grow in popularity with our people. One visit is enough to convince us that the poor, unfortunate sufferers from sickness and disease who gain admittance into it finds indeed a home of mercy and charity. Everything in and around the hospital is neat and clean, not only the halls and corridors, which are always under the eyes of visitors, but the rooms of patients, no matter how poor the condition or what may be the nature of the complaint, a slaway kept remarkably fresh and clean and slaway kept remarkably fresh and clean always with the complaint, a slaway kept remarkably fresh and clean slaway kep just received a of "Stetson" Fine

Abbey's Humpty Dumpty.

Abbey's Humpty Dumpty is worth seeing, and can be seen at DeGive's operathouse, Wednesday night. Those who visit the opera house on that night will be amused and entertained at the novelty, variety and talent. The organization is complete, novel, both in its tricks and its large list of specialties. We can promise our readers an entertainment for Wednesday evening, very amusing from the first appearance of the clowns to the closing grand transformation scene. —Glove and handkerchief boxes, vases, ewel cases, towels and tidies, card cases and all styles of fancy goods at Taylor & transformation scene.

PERSONAL MENTIOR

Accidentally, yet at an opportune time, a reporter of The Constitution on yesterday dropped into the rooms of one of the most stylish and fashionable dressmakers of the city, and found her busily engaged packing a very large trunk with four magnificent dresses. Using the eyes given him for seeing beautiful things, he discovered one very handsome dress of cream colored satin, imperial train, with trimmings of knife plaitings, folds and illy of the valley frings—fichu of flowers and lace. Another dress was a plain round skirt of Lyons velvet, brocaded velvet overskirt, with trimmings of passementeries. Another dress—brouze-green satin skirt, with plaited llowers; tiny fluting of red satin shows beyond the edge of the skirt, with brocade velvet overdress. 3. Last and most important, the prices are literally astonishingly cheap.

We have to express our extreme gratification at being invited to inspect his magnificent stock of dress goods. Ranges of goods in such quantities and variety of styles and prices that the only danger seems to be that purchasers must become bewildered by the vast quantities presented to them for selection. Here, too, the price question stares us full in the face with the boldness of a fact.

We were shown piles of exquisite goods marked for sale at 15c, 25c and 30c, worth at any time 30c, 40c and 50c per yard.

Read the captain's notices in this day's paper, and call and be benefited by the opportunities which they present. A brilliant audience should greet the above lady on the first appearance in our city. Miss Cavendish is an English actress of great dramatic ability. In her acting there is a happy absence of all ranting, yet throughout she gives her climaxes sufficient fire and spirit to meet every requirement of finished dramatic action. Her personal appearance is very charming.

Yes, the Atlanta bospital is a fixed tact. Its real worth and utility to our city is already very well and widely known.

The ladies of Atlanta—Catholic, Jew and Frotestant—without regard to creed, knowing the good the hospital is doing, have its success at heart, and have been working for along time getting up a fair for its benefit. Haverly's Latest Minstrel Boom.

Next to Bernhardt, Haverly is just now in everybody's mouth. Rumors of his visit have been rife for weeks, but it was not until recently the matter took form and enables us to give dates. According to Chicago papers Mr. Haverly's new mastodon minstrels eclipses its predecessor as two to one. His motto, 'everything.new,' begins with the rising of the curtain, which discloses a beautiful transformatio-scene, similar to that used in the spectacular drama. Mr. Haverly's wonderful success with his former mastodon, seems to have instilled new energy into his fertilibrain, and he organizes his new company on a scale of magnificence which astonishes his managerial and professional friends no less than it does the public at large. There are sixty people on the pay-roll, over fifty of whom figure prominently in the performances. He introduces an unusual number of vocalists and instrumentalists, with a view of giving to the entertain ment a semi-operatic character, and in various ways seek to elevate minstrelsy to the very highest standard of fashion and excellence. His present tour through-the country is one grand ovation.

"The Leader of Low Prices,

Has just returned from New York, having been enabled by a condition of circumstances to nather together just such a stock a quanever before been placed on sale in Atlanta. Time, as well as space, forbids an elaborate detail of the means, etc., employed in the purchase of this tock; but, perhaps, one or two items may serve to convey readily to the mind of the reader the immense advantages brought to bear in its purchase. First, armed with an abundance of Cash, every nook and crevice in New York where MONEY WAS REALLY SOUGHT FOR has been canvassed, and with surprising results, as the subjoined list will show. Second, my brother having come from Europe to join his efforts and his means with mine he purchased sefure starting for this country immense lines of goods under my instructions, and the result is that I am prepared to lay the same before purchasers at as the prices as New York importers job the same classes of goods for. This list will be found interesting to the Ladies:

SILKS AND DRESS GOODS!
